WATER WORKS.

Special Meeting of the City Council Last Night.

At the call of Mayor Luttrell a special meeting of the City Council was held last night to take further action on the question of Water Works, their being a full Board, with one exception.

Alderman Allison, stated that much dissatisfaction and misunderstanding prevails throughout the city regarding the Water Works question, the vote on which is to be taken to-morrow, and to obviate and explain the matter as far as possible, he would offer the following:

1. That in case the action of said Board at a prior meeting, appropriating $75,000 in city bonds for the construction of a Water Works, shall be ratified at the approaching special election the "Water Works Trusttees" shall, as soon thereafter as may be practicable, enter upon the duties prescribed for them in the resolution under which they were appointed; provided, however, that in no case shall said "Trusttees" enter into any contract for or expend any sum whatever (except for necessary engineering) looking to the construction of said Water Works, unless they, the said "Trustees," shall first be thoroughly assured, as far as may be possible, from careful and accurate estimates (based upon surveys, specifications, etc.) that the above mentioned sum of $75,000 shall be ample and sufficient to complete said Water Works in toto and discharge one year's interest on said sum.

XLVI CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 27.

Mr. Vest's resolution declaring in favor of free coinage and remonetization of silver was taken up.

During the debate Messrs. Kernan, Ferry and Allison protested against this method of instructing the Finance Committee. There was not time during this time to mature a measure vitally affecting the whole financial system, and indirectly the industries of the country. Hence the silver bills had been postponed. The committee was pledged to act on them early in December.

Mr. Vest called attention to the fact that the resolution was solely the expression of opinion to show the country how Senators stood.

After further debate Mr. Vest offered a substitute as follows:

Resolved, That a complete remonetization of silver and its restoration to perfect equality with gold, both as coin and bullion, are demanded alike by the dictates of justice and wise statesmanship.

The morning hour expired, and the resolution went over.

The resolution providing additional pay for Congressional employees was taken up and passed.

Mr. Eaton reported from the Committee on Judicial Expenses the Appropriation bill without amendments, and said the majority would make no attempt to shorten the debate, and a night session would not be forced.

The Senate then proceeded to consider the bill.

Mr. Conkling spoke against the jury clauses, and moved to strike out the second section. Rejected.

Several other motions to strike out were made, but all rejected, and the bill was reported to the Senate from the Committee of the Whole, read the third time and passed; yeas 29, nays 16.

House bill making appropriations for Marshals' fees was read twice and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The House joint resolution providing for adjournment June 30th, was referred to the same committee.

Mr. Allison submitted a resolution that all testimony taken by the select committee investigating the Treasury accounts be referred to the Senate and printed. After some debate concerning the alleged irregularities and discrepancies in the Treasury, and pending action on Mr. Allison's resolution, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.

The morning hour was dispensed with and the House went into a Committee of the Whole on the bill appropriating six hundred thousand dollars to pay the fees of the United States Marshals and their several deputies. A general debate being limited to one hour. The debate was opened by Mr. Garfield.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Postoffice Department proposes at an early date to extend the fast mail service in the South over two routes. One route will be from here to Jacksonville, Fla., by way of Charleston and Savannah, and the other from here to New Orleans by way of Richmond, Atlanta, Montgomery and Mobile. It was expected that these routes would be put in operation by the 1st of July next, but the postal cars necessary for service, which are in course of construction, will not be finished by that date. The work will not, however, be delayed much after that date. The schedules, number and trips weekly, etc., have not yet been determined on.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, June 26.—A special to the Constitution states that Jim Burton shot and killed his brother-in-law, J. T. Ricks, both farmers, in Meriwether county. The trouble grew out of the settlement of an estate.

Ricks heard that Burton had spoken offensively of his wife and sought redress. The parties met in the road, Ricks demanded rec-traction of Burton, who was armed with a shot gun and discharged it at Ricks, who expired instantly.

Burton is at large and claims to have acted in self defence.

IT SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE

That a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., should make so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do, but when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by them, you must believe and try yourself, and doubt no longer. See

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—A boiler exploded this morning at Waltz planing mill on Front and Brown streets. The engine house and a portion of the mill were blown in all directions. Several dwelling houses are in ruins. The dead body of the engineer has been taken from the ruins. The boiler in bursting demolished the rear portion of the building used as a sash and planing mill. It came down in the second story of a dwelling near by occupied by a family named Long. Claude Long, 8 years old, was killed, and Stella, 11 years old, badly hurt. Their mother and Mrs. McAvoy are missing and it is believed are buried in the ruins.

The Wholesale Hardware Trade.

The wholesale trade of Knoxville has been constantly increasing for the last ten or fifteen years, and in no department of trade has their been more rapid strides than in the wholesale hardware trade, which through the push and enterprise of W. W. Woodruff & Co. has reached gigantic proportions. We doubt very much if there is a city in the South, possessing a larger hardware establishment than Knoxville, and merchants from five States are being supplied by this enterprising firm. They have pushed their wholesale trade out of Tennessee into Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia, and we doubt not but what other Southern States will yet come into the list and their merchants find that they can make more money by buying from W. W. Woodruff & Co., Knoxville, Tennessee, than by going East. Merchants who have never given them a trial would do well to do so, and they will find bargains in hardware.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD MEETING.

Appointment of Delegates to the Convention at Hendersonville, N. C.

In obedience to the call published in the morning papers, a few gentlemen representing the leading interests assembled at the Public Library room last night, for the purpose of taking steps in co-operation with, and appointing delegates to the important Railroad Convention to be held at Hendersonville, N. C., on the 4th of July, reference to which has already been made through the press.

The meeting was called to order by Col. McGhee; Col. J. W. Gaut was chosen President, and J. H. Moore, Secretary.

Col. C. M. McGhee, Vice President of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, explained briefly the objects of the meeting, and the very great importance to Knoxville, of the proposed railroad connection by the way of Morristown, Asheville, etc., through to the Southern seaboard, as well as a large belt of interior country, in North and South Carolina, in the interest of which this Hendersonville convention is to be held.

In this connection Col. McGhee, to demonstrate further the advantages to accrue from this connection, read some figures, showing the saving in distance by the proposed route, over that of the one by way of Atlanta, which is now our only outlet by rail. The following figures carefully prepared by Mr. Jas. R. Ogden, will throw some light on the subject:

Distance from Knoxville to Charleston via Asheville, 415 miles, via Atlanta, 519 miles; difference, 104 miles.

Distance from Knoxville to Wilkesboro via Asheville, 453 miles, via

Atlanta, 559 miles; difference in favor of the Asheville route, 106 miles.

Distance from Knoxville to Spartanburg via Asheville, 189 miles; via

of the Asheville route, 213 miles.

Knoxville to Columbia, S. C., via

Asheville, 282 miles, via Atlanta, 404

miles; difference, 122 miles.

Knoxville to Greenville, S. C., via

miles; difference, 149 miles.

The Colonel also referred to Knox-ville's other outlet to the West, by way of Louisville and Cincinnati, which would follow as a natural consequence by connection with the Louisville and Nashville road. He stated that he had a telegraphic communication

Thursday from Dr. Standiford, President of said road, in which he expressed an entire readiness at any time to meet Tennessee at the rate line in such connection. He also heartily endorsed the connection by way of Asheville, and has the co-operation of his Board of Directors and associates.

He promised to furnish Col. McGhee with a letter to be read at the Hendersonville Convention.

On motion of J. M. King, Esq., the chair was empowered to appoint delegates from Knoxville to the Hendersonville Convention, leaving it discretionary with him as to the number.

Col. Gaut appointed as delegates the following gentlemen: Hon. H. H.

Ingersoll, Judge John L. Moses, Wm.

M. Baxter, Esq., Wm. Rule, Esq.,

Mr. T. H. Heald, Hon. O. P. Temple, and Col. W. A. Henderson.

Under the motion he still has the power to appoint additional ones, and is instructed to select such men as will attend, the above gentlemen having signified their willingness to do so.

Col. McGhee said it was desirable to have a good representation from Knoxville, and he promises to do what he can in the way of securing passes for the delegates, which he felt pretty confident could be secured.

After some other encouraging remarks on the subject the meeting adjoined.
